REFLECTOR BORDER LIGHTS:

Older style border lights which use 60 to 300 watt medium screw base lamps in individual reflectors are still available. Not for use with gels. Portable sections 6', 7.5', or 8' long include, 3' wiring leads, 3 or 4 circuits, and floor trunions. Longer, continuous lengths for permanent installation are hung with chains, and have no wiring leads. Replacement reflectors, glass roundels, and lens retaining rings are available. The #R40 borderlight produces more light and is a better value for most new installations.

PAR64 & PAR56 BORDER LIGHTS:

High output border lights use sealed beam PAR lamps. Includes Combo color frames for sheet gels or roundels, #508 hanging arms with C-clamps, 3' wiring leads input, and hinged cover (which can be used as a barndoor). PAR56B uses 300 or 500 watt PAR56 lamps on 8" centers. PAR64B uses 500 or 1000 watt PAR64 lamps on 9" centers. Both models can use optional 7-9/16" dia. glass roundels (requires optional "COMB" gel frames). These are discontinued products, but replacement Combo color frames, glass roundels, hanging hardware, and lamps are still available.

GLASS ROUNDELS FOR BORDER LIGHTS:

Glass roundels provide long life colors for border lights. Red, blue, green, amber, or clear available in all sizes. Plain roundels have stippled backside and smooth front. Spread roundels have molded ridges on the front to spread light 50° in one direction for wider coverage. Split rings are used to hold roundels in older styles of border lights which have metal reflectors.
